Voters will decide how to choose town clerk

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Forced to move quickly if such a change is to be made by this year's annual Town Meeting, the Bethel Board of Selectmen has set March 7 as the date for a special Town Meeting to consider whether the posts of town clerk, tax assessor and treasurer should be filled by election rather than appointment.

That they not set a date until after they hear his appeal of Town Manager Madeleine Henley's decision to fire him (see box).

Brown also apologized repeatedly for the timing of the petition, but he noted that he had only a very small window of time in which to present it.

Had he waited, he said, the chances (assuming they are approved by voters) would not go into effect until the following year.

But Brown noted that the board could wait until next week before setting a date for the special meeting, and there would still be time for the changes to take effect this year.

The extra week, he said, would allow the selectmen more time to consider the petition.

The request for the delay in setting a date caught the board off guard.

"You've caught me by surprise," said chairman Bob Chadbourne. "This is something we're not used to dealing with."

The week's delay would also have allowed Brown's appeal to be heard but not necessarily for the results of the appeal to be known.

Monday evening's discussions were polite and focused on the procedural implications of setting a meeting date. There was no discussion of Brown's termination or the merits of the petition.

Brown's appeal to be heard tonight

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Former Bethel town clerk Merton Brown has formally appealed Town Manager Madeleine Henley's decision to fire him.

The town selectmen have set a special meeting this evening (Wednesday) to hear Brown's appeal. The meeting is scheduled for 5 p.m. tonight in the Town Office meeting room.

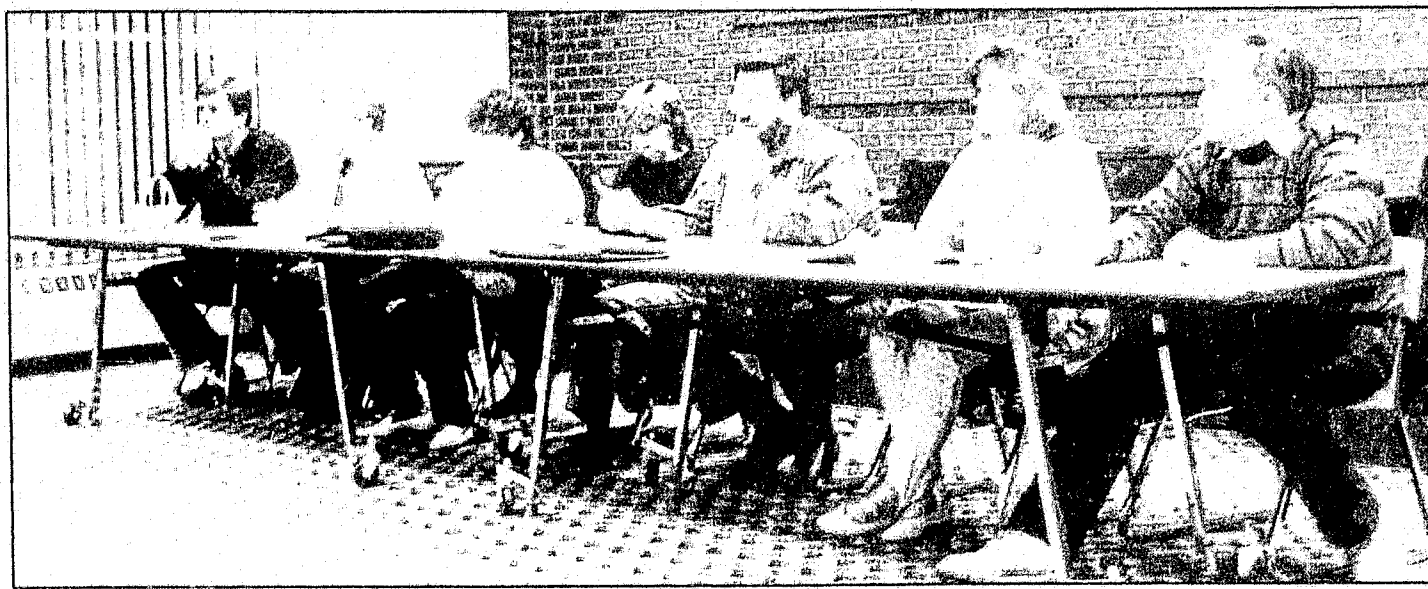

The appeal will be heard in secret session, since Brown and his attorney, Tom Carey of Rumford, have refused their right to request that the hearing be opened to the public.

Carey told The Citizen Tuesday that he and Brown decided against an open hearing, "because Merton plans on retaining his job and does not want to embarrass people he will be working with in the future."

Otten opts out -- for now

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Sen. Thomas M. O'Meara M.D. has opted out of the U.S. House of Representatives for now, but he may return to Congress in the future.

O'Meara, 52, of Bethel, announced his decision to leave the House after four years. He said he was "not ready to leave the state" and wanted to focus on his medical practice and family.

Hopes springs still for Bryant Pond water source, but in the meantime ...

By ALISON ALOISIO

Woodstock-area residents are turning to friends, neighbors, and other springs for clean drinking water, following the closing of the roadside spring on Route 26 in Bryant Pond.

The spring's outlet pipes were covered with gravel by the Maine Department of Transportation about three weeks ago.

A November water test had shown the coliform bacteria count to be unsatisfactory, and MDOT did not want to risk liability if someone became ill.

That left spring-users -- many of whom have relied on the source for years -- without a handy supply of drinking water.

Mary Billings of Bryant Pond had used the spring for 27 years, because the water from a driven point in her basement does not taste good. She now goes to a friend's house to get about eight to 12 gallons of water a week.

"It (the closed spring) will probably be more of a problem in the summer," she said, referring to area camp owners who have also used the spring water.

Community Lakes Association president Nancy Willard of Bryant Pond isn't sure just how many summer people go to the spring, "but I think it (the number of people) must increase significantly in the summer," she said.

A former spring user herself, she, too, now gets water from neighbors. Lon Dresser of Woodstock had used the spring for about six years.

'If we can keep it clean and find a way to make it safe, why not do it?'

NANCY WILLARD
Lakes Association

The water from his dug well on the Gore Road tastes like sulfur.

He's now turned to a spring on the Old Greenwood Road, near the Richardson Hollow intersection.

He said the water tastes good, but "it was three miles (to the Route 26 spring), and this one is 12."

Chandler testing water

Willard and Jim Chandler of the Oxford County Soil and Water Conservation District are not giving up hope that the Bryant Pond spring can be reopened.

Chandler is negotiating with MDOT and the state Department of Human Services on possible options for saving the spring. He did not want to elaborate on those options while he is still talking to the agencies.

He recently took two water samples from each of the two pipes at the spring and tested them.

He said one set of samples tested "perfect" while the other had mixed results.

From the second set, one sample was fine, while the other came back with some coliform. But, Chandler said, the sample was free of E. coli bacteria.

E. coli is a primary concern because it may indicate the presence of fecal material.

He plans another round of testing as he continues his discussions with the state. The Community Lakes Association paid for the first round of tests.

Willard said she would like to see

Gill sentenced on state charges

PARIS--Charles Gill was sentenced last week by a Superior Court judge to three years in prison, with all but 18 months of that time suspended. Gill changed an innocent plea to a state felony charge of theft by decep- tion, made shortly after his arrest in December 1994, to a plea of guilty on that charge. As part of a plea agreement, 16 misdemeanor charges of unlawful practice of psychology were dismissed. The charges were asso- ciated with Gill's posing as a psychologist at the Bethel Area Health Center in 1994. The jail sentence will be served concurrently with a three year, four month sentence levied in U.S. District Court last week, after Gill pled guilty to charges of mail fraud, wire fraud and making false claims to Medicare and Medicaid.

Barth seeks reelection

BETHEL--Rep. Alvin L. Barth, Jr. (R) has announced his candidacy for reelection to the Maine House of Representatives for District 65. If elected, it would be his fourth and final term, due to term limits. District 65 includes Weld, Hanover, Newry, Gilead, Madrid, Byron, Upton, Bethel, west central Franklin unorganized territory, Andover, Dallas plantation, north Franklin unorganized territory, Rangeley, Coplin planta- tion, Sandy River plantation, north Oxford unorganized territory, Stoneham, Magalloway plantation and eastern central Franklin un- organized territory.

Selectmen complete budget proposal

WEST PARIS--The Board of Selectmen last week completed a pro- posed municipal budget for 1996, recommending that $339,593 be raised from taxes. That figure is $24,997 less than last year's. The figure does not include the SAD17 assessment. The Town Meeting is March 9.

Newton & Tebbets accident-free

BETHEL--Newton & Tebbets Co. of West Bethel has gone accident- free for one year, according to owner Roy Newton. For that achievement employees will receive two days off. Newton said a safety program was started in 1993 to reduce accidents and combat the rising cost of work- men's compensation premiums. The company had previously gone 527 days without an accident, until Jan. 30 of 1995.

Snow tennis at Sunday River

NEWRY--They have traveled the globe, competing on hard courts, clay courts and the toughest grass courts. Now they're heading to Sunday River Ski Resort to put their talents to the ultimate test -- on a snow court. Four current and former world-ranked tennis professionals -- in- cluding Bud Schultz who has played in all four Grand Slam tournaments -- will compete in the first-ever on-snow tennis exhibition Saturday, Feb. 10. The event, billed as Tennis on the Snow '96, is presented by the U.S. Tennis Association/New England.

Berlin City buys Maine Mall Motors

GORHAM, N.H.--The owner of the Berlin City Dealerships has recently acquired a controlling interest in Maine Mall Motors, one of the largest auto dealerships in southern Maine. Danny Dagesse owns Toyota, Dodge, Ford, Lincoln/Mercury, Jeep/Eagle, Mazda, and Chevrolet, Buick and Geo franchises in Gorham, as well as Volvo, Volkswagen, Honda, Mazda and Isuzu (Presidential Motors) in Intervale, N.H.

Mills runs for School Board

ANDOVER--Resident Rick Mills will be a candidate for a SAD44 School Board seat at the March 2 Town Meeting. He is running for the seat currently held by Brad Thibodeau, whose term is up in March. Mills said he knows of no one else interested in the position. He said his main goal in seeking the office is to see that students get a good education.

Keep your dog at home

MEXICO--Game wardens and animal control officers are reminding dog owners to keep track of their pets, since the crusty snow is making deer hunting easy for the canines. The dogs can run on top of the crust, while the deer break through. "If you let your dog out and it disappears, it's probably up to no good," said Mexico animal control officer Everett Chase. He said the next two months are crucial in deer survival, because of the snow and the condition of the deer. "Almost all the does are heavy with young, and can't run far without getting out of breath," he said. Al- lowing dogs to run at large is punishable by a fine of between $50 and $100.

One snowmobiler killed, one revived

NEW LIMERICK--A Houlton man was killed Saturday when his snow- mobile hit an ice fishing shack on Nickerson Lake. Robert McCarthy, 41, was dead at the scene. He struck the shack broadside and crashed through it. In another accident, a snowmobiler from Bowdoin was missing for at least five hours before he was found unconscious and nearly frozen along a trail. Kevin Priestly, 28, of Bowdoin, was revived and in stable condi- tion at a Brunswick hospital after he had been pronounced dead en route to the hospital. His body temperature had dropped to 70 degrees.

Maine to receive federal trails funds

AUGUSTA--Maine may receive $300,000 per year from a federal off- highway recreation fund, according to Mike Gallagher, manager of grants and community recreation for the Department of Conservation. The Kempthorne Amendment to the National Highway Systems Act was signed into law on Nov. 28 providing off-highway recreation funding of $15 million per year for the 1996 and 1997 fiscal years. The appropria- tion bill authorizes trail funds for only the second time since the National Recreational Trails Fund Act was passed in 1991. The act authorizes up to $30 million per year from federal fuel tax revenues. Previously Con- gress had authorized $7.5 million in 1993. Gallagher said that when funds are available, they will be on a 50/50 basis for grants that will be allocated 30 percent for motorized trails, 30 percent for non-motorized trails and 40 percent for multi-use trails.

MSHA reduces mortgage interest rates

AUGUSTA--The Maine State Housing Authority has reduced interest rates in its first-time home buyers program to 6.25 starting Feb. 1. The new rate is a half percentage point below the previous MSHA mortgage rate of 6.75 percent. The federal income limits for borrowers range from $34,000 to $45,000, depending on family size and the county in which the home is located. Home price limits for existing homes range from $94,000 to $110,000, but higher prices are allowed for new homes and owner-occupied two- to four-unit homes. For more information call 1- 800-452-4668.

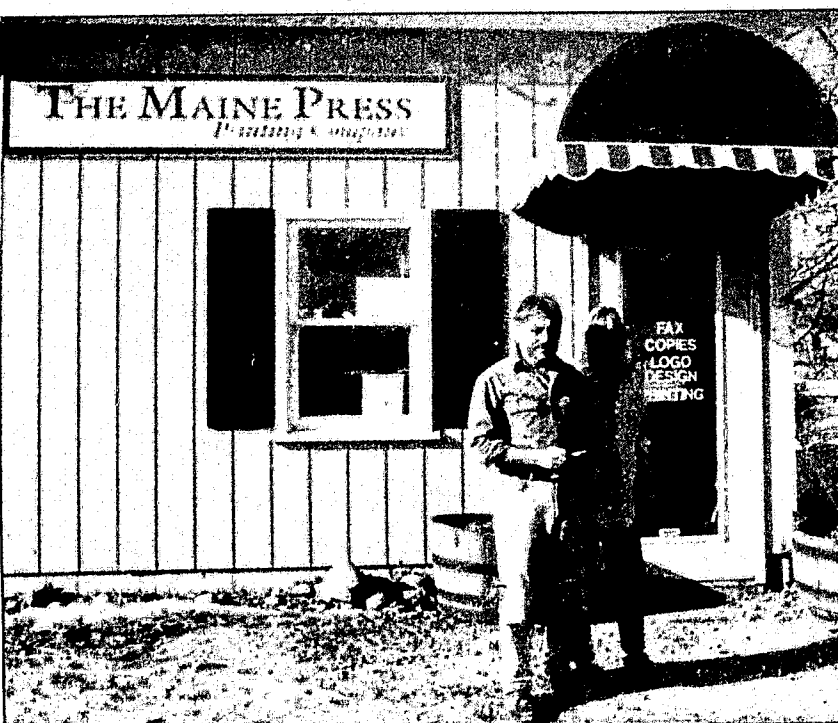

Bears complicate Sugarbush land deal

MONTPELIER, Vt.--A proposed land swap between the company that owns the Sugarbush ski area and the National Forest Service could threaten a series of protections for the bear living in the area, an official said. That's because the federal government would not recognize the state land-use permit that governs the use of the land under the ski lift that connects the two sections of the Sugarbush ski resort. Officials with both the Forest Service and Sugarbush say the conditions in the state permit would be written into the federal rules for the land and the bear would have the same protection they do under state regulation. Carl Spangler, the vice president of Sugarbush Resort Holdings Inc., said the company was determined to protect the bear. "One of the caveats we placed on the proposal for a land exchange is that they would to our satis- faction honor the wildlife protection," he said. Lou Milford, an attorney for the Conservation Law Foundation, said the federal management plan does not carry the same force of law as Act 250 and the bear would be living at the whim of the federal government, which could change the rules, and possibly allow the land to be logged.

BEHIND IN TAXES--Listed above are Bethel property owners who owe the town more than $5,000 in tax liens, overdue taxes, interest and lien costs as of Jan. 31, 1996. The town selectmen voted Mon- day to spend up to $1,000 to hire a researcher to identify mortgage holders on properties which have maturing tax liens from 1993 and 1994. Mortgage holders must be contacted 45 days before the lien matures and the property becomes tax acquired. It has been at least a dozen years since the town acquired any such property, said Town Manager Madeline Henley, and town officials hope such takings can be avoided this time around. In all, Henley said, 175 properties have tax liens due to mature in March or April.

From the Bethel Police log:

Tour bus a case of mistaken identity

On Feb. 4 at 3:26 p.m. the Maine State Police requested Bethel police be on the lookout for a tour bus on Route 26 in connection with a vehicle/pedestrian hit and run. At 3:35 police stopped a bus on Route 26 near the Bethel/Greenwood town line. A state trooper requested the bus be held until he could arrive. At 3:45 the trooper arrived and determined the bus was not the one involved. It was later determined another tour bus was involved, and it was eventually located.

Saturday, Feb. 3

At 2:16 p.m. a van driven by a Tiverton, R.I. resident was stopped at the intersection of the Parkway and Route 2. It started and then stopped again, and was struck from the rear by a car driven by a Bethel resident. There was no visible damage to the van. The bumper of the car was knocked loose. The two occupants of the car complained of neck pain but refused transport to the hospital.

At 9:25 p.m. the Oxford County Sheriff's office advised Bethel police they had received two hang-up calls on the 911 line from the area of the Flat Road. A female could be heard yelling in the background. A sheriff's deputy was sent as backup. On arrival, police were met by a man who said a woman was intoxicated and had come to his residence to try to reestablish a relationship with him. The man rejected her at- tempts and asked her to leave. She left before police arrived.

Monday, Feb. 5

At 12:21 a.m. a Vernon St. resident reported a snow machine with two subjects had gone into a drainage ditch in the field across from his residence. The complainant was concerned because the ditch was filled with water and the temperature was -12 degrees. On arrival police met with the two men, who had been trying unsuccessfully to find a trail to Bethel Park Apartments. The machine was left in the ditch until ar- rangements could be made to remove it in the morning. Police trans- ported the men, who were wet from the waist down, to Bethel Park Apartments. They had been stopped and summonsed earlier in the eve- ning by police for operating snow machines on a public way. The men were from West Bethel and Mexico, respectively.

At 8:40 p.m. a Maryland resident reported his son and a family friend had left their condominium at the Bethel Opera House at 6 p.m. to get ice cream, and as of 8:40 had not returned. The complainant was con- cerned because neither subject was familiar with the area. Police ob- tained vehicle information and descriptions of the subjects and had a be-on-the-lookout broadcast over the radio. The Rumford and Gorham police were also notified. At 9:11 p.m. the complainant called and said the subjects had returned and were all right.

Greenwood City

by Colista Morgan

Seek beauty and you find it in so many things past and present. It is in the friendly handshake of a happy smile on the face of one you meet.

Beauty comes from the sound of music in the heart, the song of a bird or the rustle of leaves.

At the break of day in the golden dawn beauty is fresh on the green hills or when the countrysides are white with snow. There in the distance you may see a mailbox path on a little round hill covered with pines, an expression of grandeur and solemnity. A pine grove has character unique, with a certain harmonious blending of lightness and darkness, bringing a feeling of cheerfulness or gloom; light ever-changing because of the thickness above. Sometimes passing beneath we feel a little of the religious awe, as when passing beneath the great arches of a cathedral.

Underneath and among the winter trees are woodland creatures seeking a warmer nook from winds that whisper of zero weather. Within their sheltered haunts are the foxes with graceful beauty gliding from the stone fences across the snow. Within a hollow trunk sleeps the racoon waiting, just waiting. The rabbit, the partridge, the mouse with its tiny trails here and there, and the white-tailed deer biding time 'til another spring.

These same trees whisper to those that nestle there, while branches reach upward toward the brightness of the sky while the silent earth is resting enfolded in the silence of white solitude.

Out across the frozen held or frozen trail the winter moonlight leads us through the rustle of weeds to the pond's edge. Pause here for grace and beauty as skaters cut figures in the ice and whirl round and round silhouetted against the gleam of a distant bonfire.

The glow of a light in a window leads to the cheery warmth of home.

Beauty is so many things/ friends we know and love... Little things and shining stars/ snow-white clouds above. All our hearts might find worth while in this world of this. A garden path all fresh with dew, that's what beauty is."

(Garnett A. Schultz)

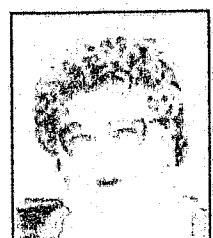

It was nice to have Eleanor Inman, Carl and Lettie Brooks and Ann Holt visit me this past week.

I have a new clock to take the place of my cuckoo clock, which the children at school gave me when I moved here many years ago. Cuckoo died. Although I took it to the "hospital" twice, it refused to work again.

I never realized it was so much work to find a clock like the one I wanted. But after waiting and searching several months I have one.

Last Saturday afternoon I went to Pownal to attend the 25th wedding anniversary of my niece, Lillian Curtis Strait and her husband, Glenn. There were 50 people who came to their home to surprise them. They were surprised and so were the rest of us. The power went off just at food serving time. All worked out well. When we left for home there was a deluge of rain.

East Stoneham

by Eleanor Nelson

There is a correction in last week's news about the public supper at the North Lovell

Grange Hall put on by the Stoneham Knight Riders Snowmobile Club, it was printed as Saturday, Feb. 19. It should read Saturday, Feb. 10. This is come by snowmobile or car, rain or shine -- 5 to 7 p.m. We'll see you all there. It sounds like a good one.

Lawrence and Mildred Dandun from Damariscotta were at their home here one day last week.

Jim Morrison is again in the Maine Medical Center in Portland for further surgery and treatment. Margaret Stevens has been in the hospital for surgery and treatment of her shoulder.

Gladys Kilgore wants to thank everyone for giving her such a nice 100th birthday on Jan. 18. Also for the party on Jan. 14. She received many, many cards, flowers and gifts. Everything was just beautiful and she does appreciate it all.

Stoneham Fire Department was called out for service standby on Tuesday night at Papoose Pond Camping Resort. They held their regular monthly meeting at 7 p.m. the same night with 14 members attending.

Church services will be held at North Waterford Church for the month of February.

Gladys Kilgore and Eleanor Nelson went to Fryeburg Wednesday to her podiatrist, Dr. Goldenhair. He is a good foot specialist. I used to work with his office manager, Carol Hicks, at the Bridgton hospital many, many years ago. Also last week I had a nice chat with another office pal from Norway Footwear, Dot Watson from Norway. It's good to keep in touch with old friends. (I don't mean old, girls, I mean former. No, not former, because you are still friends. I'll leave it at that!)

Mike Cummings is at home from the Bridgton hospital. We're glad you're home and better, Mike.

Phyllis Adams is at home after being in Florida the past few weeks.

Can you believe it will be February when you read this. Happy Valentines Day to you all out there. We are all loved and don't forget it. Adios 'til next week.

South Woodstock

by Andrea Wing

I believe the town of Woodstock is very fortunate to have such a dedicated town manager.

Vern Maxwell and secretary, Betty Benner. The town is in good condition in financial matters and runs smoothly, because of the work of these people and the town selectmen.

Also, special recognition and thanks should go to the town road crew, headed by road foreman, Percy Monk. The roads in Woodstock are well taken care of by only Percy and two others in the road crew. One incident recently happened. One of the trucks had a bad clutch and was needed for the snow storm that was expected that evening. Percy and his crew worked from 6 p.m. until midnight and had it fixed and was out plowing the roads at 1 a.m. They have also been very busy with the amount of snow and rain we've had. They were out trying to get rid of some of the ice that has accumulated in the road in front of my house. I want to give them a vote of thanks, to all the public employees of Woodstock, for a job well done.

Richard Wing has been working a lot of hours this winter. He has worked 18 days straight so far the past few weeks. He was headed to work at 1 a.m. the morning he met Percy Monk out plowing after fixing the clutch on the truck.

Jessie Hart, my granddaughter, spent the day with me lately as they called school off at Oxford Hills. Jessie called to see if she could spend the day. Of course I said yes as I always enjoy spending time with her.

Those celebrating February birthdays are: David Brown, Bailey Davis, Tracy Grover, Ryan Hathaway, Joanne Korhonen, Dennis Poland, Jo-Anna Poland, Sherri Poland, Jamie Monzo, Andrew Merrill, Shawn Morse, Herbert Ryerson, Eleanor Ryerson, Keith Hadley and Doreen Benson. A special birthday wish goes out to my brother, Vernon Poland, who is a patient at Ledgeview Nursing Home.

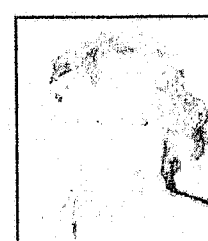

Celebrating wedding anniversaries in February are: Keith and Darlene Hadley, Gordon and Lolalee Dilingham, Norman and Helen Moore and Amie and Rose Kennison. Congratulations all.

Curator Larry Billings, Woodstock Historical Society reports that he has been reading some early British poetry and essays. The society benefits the public. It studies the past and preserves our heritage. It educates and informs. The museum collects the vital artifacts of our town and area, telling our history in concrete terms. Mr. Billings has also been reading some work by Victorian writer Thomas Carlyle. He also has read some poems by Alexander Pope and some short stories by Katherine Mansfield. Larry Billings has given the society a small painting. A statistical agency sent some information on architects in Maine. Much thanks.

Quote of the Week: "I've learned that everyone should make use of what Mother Nature gives us before Father Time takes it away."

North Newry

by
Gil Seeley

Malissa Straus, Bill and Sylvia Wight's grandchild from North Waterford was a weekend guest here in North Newry recently. Sylvia is improving all the time from her hip operation and looking forward to being her old self again, maybe even going bowling soon. We wish her the best.

Karlene Bachelder, Eleanor Davis, Gil Seeley and Olive Anderson of the "Newry Bowling Gang" were at the Oxford Lanes in Rumford one good, but cold day last week. Jim Anderson was a guest. On the overall scores, Karlene was high on the triples and beating Eleanor by one pin on the singles, and Eleanor beating Gil by three pins. Karlene had one spare. Gil one spare and Eleanor five spares.

The Newry Mothers Club will meet Feb. 12 at 7:30 p.m. at the Town Building if the weather cooperates. Valentine exchange and Olive and Gil on the snacks. Gil brings the mystery prize. See you there.

Mr. and Mrs. Ras Bachelder were in Stratton last Thursday to visit with his father who will be 94 years old in April and found him as well and cheerful as can be expected at that age. We wish him good health.

Here is some news from little Rhode Island: My nephew's son, Chris Toi who is chairman of the Republican Town Committee, was moderator at the Burrville Recreation Center in Pascoag recently, welcoming "Honey" the wife of Lamar Alexander, a G.O.P. contender. About 40 attended the event. There were questions and answers. Honey, whose real name is Leslie said she is used to addressing small crowds as her husband tries to build grassroots support for his candidacy. There are lots of people out there who don't know Lamar at all, she said. That's part of the problem.

Chris said Honey's visit was proof that the town's G.O.P. is on the move. Even if it has always been the minority party. "We are vibrant!" he said, and gave her a parting gift of a Rhode Island t-shirt. Showing her the map, Chris said "up here in the northwest corner (Pascoag) that's where you are." Burrville County has a cluster of five towns, Pascoag, Harrisville, Glendale, Oakland and Mapleville in the radius of about 10 miles. Who is next to visit Pascoag, Chris? Steve Forbes' wife, Sabrina? Chris is 31 years old...I see a busy future ahead of him. Go, Chris, go...I am very proud of you.

During the weekend storm a large tree blew over Sunday morning near the Preble's cottage, snapping a power pole, but power was not interrupted, though traffic was delayed awhile till clean-up could be made. Also, the heavy rains caused flooding over Route 5 in several places.

Our sympathy is extended to the family and friends of Mrs. Martha Von Zintl.

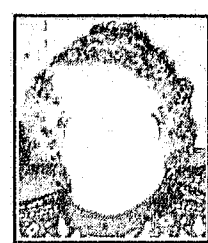

On Monday, Mrs. Elmira Doyen attended a retirement party honoring her daughter, Marjorie Awall for nearly 30 years' service to the State of Maine helping blind people cope with their applications. The affair was held at Alfred's Inn hosting nearly a hundred friends and co-workers. Among her gifts of flowers, money, etc., was a ceramic replica of a "seeing-eye" dog. Congratulations, Margie!

The Rev. Jean Bass was a recent visitor here.

I spent a few days this week with the Adams family in Hanover. It wasn't an apple that started the trouble in the Garden of Eden. It was the "pair" on the ground.

Winter does not seem to want to give up -- not that I suppose it has to. After all it is still winter. But somehow it doesn't seem to be quite right that it is so cold, especially in the West and Midwest. One would like to see North Pole air stay in the North Pole. One cannot say one has not had winter this year. There has been something for everybody.

I am pleased to see lights at Vera Cross's and know she is home again. She can't get well soon enough to suit me.

Much to the surprise of a lot of people Mt. Abram was able to hold the ski races as planned last weekend in spite of the rain. There was a lot of activity at the Greene's house, so I assume the family was all there.

I took Debbie Brown to Norway Thursday afternoon to have X-rays, as she has injured something in her neck. She has had quite a time with it by spells.

Howdy, friends. Well, I expect all of you folks out there are happy that it snowed a little more last night. I'm thankful that there were only three or four inches instead of another foot.

Plans are being made for a benefit supper for Beth Coffin of Norway at the West Paris Grange Hall on March 16 from 5 to 6:30 p.m., and is being put on by neighbors and friends. The price for the supper will be $5 for adults, $3 for children, and free for under 5. Donations of food items will be very acceptable. Call Mary Lovejoy if you want to donate food. Donations of money may be sent to Dick Manson, c/o The Lake Store, P.O. Box 112, Norway, ME 04268. The person for whom the supper will benefit is in need of a voice-activated computer, and we hope for a lot of cooperation. Thank you.

There will be another dance at West Paris Grange Hall on Feb. 10, with music by the Richard Felt Orchestra.

Marsha Baxter from Oxford was a caller at Mary Lovejoy's on Wednesday.

On Monday afternoon, Doc Merrill brought his suit coat so Peggy could tighten up some of the buttons on it.

Last Wednesday, it started to rain in the forenoon and continued to rain more or less for the rest of the day. At bedtime it was still raining and the temperature had climbed to 42 degrees. Our temperature goes from one extreme to another.

It was cold and windy on Thursday, but it also was sunny, so we decided it was the right time to go to Auburn and Lewiston to do some shopping. Sister Laura came down from East Andover and joined us for the outing. Peggy and I had our picture taken together just before Christmas and gave pictures to some of the relatives for Christmas. As a result, we were entitled to another free 8 x 10 picture from Sears, so that was where we did our first shopping. We had to pose again for this photo and I was sure to keep my mouth open this time, so that it would look more natural, as my mouth is open most of the time. As usual, we ate Chinese chow for dinner at the China Wok. I wouldn't want it for a steady diet, but I do like it once in a while. Peggy and I are stingy, as we give one order for food and an empty plate. Then we divide the order and both have all we want to eat. Laura had some to take home.

When we went for groceries on Friday, Peggy decided to stop at her doctor's to see if he recommended X-rays. A few days earlier Peggy had fallen as she was clearing a metal roof with the snow scoop. It didn't hurt too badly at that time but had continued to bother. The doctor found nothing broken but did give her a prescription for some special pain pills, which she had filled at Shop 'n Save. When we got home, the prescription was missing. A call to the store assured us that the prescription was still there, so Peggy made the second trip to get it. After she got home, she went to get an egg and learned that the dozen eggs that we had paid for was also somewhere else. That was one of those days when we should have stayed in bed.

We lost our electricity here in the early evening on Saturday. With no TV, we spent the evening playing cards by the light of a kerosene lamp. What light! Thankfully, the power was on by the time we were preparing for bed.

The dance at Locke Mills was canceled, but Peggy and Doc had not planned to attend.

On Sunday, Doc Merrill called and we joined him for a trip to Locke Mills Legion Hall to attend a benefit spaghetti dinner for Gina and Fred Corriveau. Gina has been hospitalized with cancer since October and maybe you can imagine the hospital bills that accumulate. Anyway, the turnout for the delicious spaghetti dinner was outstanding. The dinner started around 1 p.m. and people kept coming for quite some time. It was wonderful to see so many people joining in on such a worthy cause. The Richard Felt Orchestra furnished music for dancing and many people stayed to enjoy the dancing, which lasted until about 4 p.m. It was a Sunday afternoon well spent.

MRTA SCHOLARSHIPS

The Maine Retired Teachers Association will again this year award $500 scholarships to adults. These scholarships will be given to individuals who are undertaking further education, either to return to teaching or to teach for the first time.

There is no application form. A letter of application should include relevant biographical and personal information, previous educational experience (including a transcript from the last school attended), the institution where study is being undertaken, and names and addresses of three people who might furnish references.

The required information should be sent in one envelope to Dr. Paula F. Plourde, Route 2, Box 120, Norridgewock, ME 04957, to arrive no later than April 15.

The MRTA will also award scholarships to high school seniors who plan to teach in Maine. Each applicant must be graduating from a high school or academy in the upper quarter of his/her class. Each school principal or guidance office will have the exact information required and the necessary application form.

COLIN PENLEY QUALIFIES FOR TALENT SEARCH

Colin Penley, son of Dick and Wendy Penley of Bethel, has been chosen to participate in the Johns Hopkins University Center for Talented Youth Talent Search Program.

Agnes Gray School

by Marta Clements

Students in all classes are working hard as usual. The fourth-graders are working extra hard taking the MEA tests. This year the time to work on them has been extended to two weeks. Ranks have closed and progress reports will be coming home on Feb. 6 for all elementary students. Plans are in full swing for our school-wide Maine Studies Week to be held the week of Feb. 12-16.

Nicholas Dean was the Star of the Week in second grade. Classmates like Nicholas because he is nice to others, is a good sport and a good athlete. He is a good friend and an all-around good student.

The fifth-graders are excited about all the upcoming fundraisers being held for the annual trip to Boston. We are sending thanks to those who have already offered help or donations. Lynda Poland, Stacey Dillingham, and Robyn Sessions are parents heading up our projects, and they will be calling on everyone soon. On Feb. 10, we will be having a bottle drive. On Feb. 17 we will hold a food sale at Mt. Abram. On Saturday, March 9, we will be selling refreshments at the town meeting. We will have enough for lunches, as well as snacks. We will be selling Pizza Hut Gold Cards. This means that the buyers of the cards can get 20 free pizzas! We will be holding raffles, and running a ghost party from "COOKIN'", which features lots of neat kitchen items.

Please contact Lynda, Stacey, Robyn, or the classroom teacher, Marta Clements, for further information on any of the projects. If you would like to help us out, and we don't call you, let us know. We have a small class this year, and a lot of work is going to have to be done. We all feel the trip is worth the effort.

The community of West Paris is also planning a major fundraiser to help out a local student who is unable to attend school because of severe health problems. Beth Coffin is a bright little girl whose learning would be greatly enhanced if she had a voice-activated computer. Beth's friends and neighbors are sponsoring a public supper to be held on Saturday, March 16, at the West Paris Grange Hall. The proceeds will go toward the computer. Mary Lovejoy is the contact person, and she is looking for people to volunteer to cook for, and/or to work on, the supper. Give her a call if you would like to help. Also, if you are unable to help on the supper, but would like to give a donation of money, you may send it to Dick Marston, c/o The Lake Store, P.O. Box 112, Norway, ME 04268.

A voice-activated computer is very expensive, but very necessary for Beth. And, there are three other students in the family, who might be willing to share the computer, too! Mark Saturday, March 16, on your calendar. The supper will be served from 5 to 6:30 p.m., or longer if the line is long! Come and show your support for Beth and the computer! And, enjoy the good food of West Paris cooks.

THE PATH OF VISION

In planning a path of vision, the eye will follow certain shapes and will form directional signals. They may focus attention where you want it, but they can also lead the eye out of the picture. A blocking device, such as a tree or a rock, may stop the eye from wandering and hold it within the picture.

FROM THE

UM Cooperative Extension

The Oxford County 4-H youth development program will host a community night for teens and their parents interested in exchange and travel opportunities. The program will be held on Feb. 24 at 7 p.m. at the Extension Office in South Paris. (Snow date is March 2 at 7 p.m.)

The program will include a panel of 4-H youth who have been involved in both state, national, and international exchange programs. Hear about our interstate two-year exchange opportunities from our Japanese and Costa Rican exchange visitors, from one of our international IFFY travel 4-H programs, and about possible future opportunities.

Following the panel discussion the program will have a reception which will enable the presenters and the audience to talk one-on-one about what interests them individually.

Many of our current teen exchange members will be present to tell firsthand about their experiences. Travel can open a teen's eyes to a whole new world of opportunities.

For more information, or to register to attend this free exchange evening, call Susan Jennings at the Oxford County Extension Office at 743-6329 or 1-800-287-1482.

VILLAGE STORE OFFERS MORE--The Hanover Village Store is changing its name to the Hanover Store and Restaurant, thanks to a new dining area and kitchen added recently. Owner Tom Pitcher said in addition to its usual menu of take-out pizza and sandwiches, the store is now serving breakfast and lunch. The cook is Bonnie Bulger, whose nearby DJ's Diner was destroyed in a fire in 1994. Shown here are (from left): waitress/clerks Becky Bean and Maggie Thornton, Bulger and Pitcher.
